

Nataliia Malysh

Professor. Department of «Kyiv-Mohyla School of Government», Faculty of Law of National University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy, Doctor of Sciences in Public Administration, Professor.

ORCID iD <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6803-7860>

Svitlana Moskalenko

Deputy Director of the Institute of Public Management and Administration, NAPA under the President of Ukraine, PhD in Public Administration

ORCID iD <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-5017-0230>

WORLD TRENDS OF EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT: PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION ASPECT

Problems, tendencies and directions of development of educational services on the basis of the analysis of foreign publications are considered. It has been emphasized that since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, international organizations have contributed to the continuity of education and supported countries to mitigate its effects. It was noted that further steps should be aimed at continuing the development of open educational platforms, encouraging cooperation between universities, international organizations, the private sector, and civil society. The main trends in the development of education in the world are identified and summarized. Trends that can be seen in future changes in education will include: increasing educational innovations, strengthening public-private educational partnerships, overcoming digital inequality, and so on.

Key words: online learning; distance education; digital competence; information; technology; innovative approaches; «soft skills»; COVID-19; trends.